Babson Discusses Prayers, Decisions

(Exclusive NEWS Feature)

I HAVE been interested in a recent correspondence between President Truman and Representative Hebert, a Democrat of Louisiana, who wrote the President asking that a certain day be appointed for national prayer.

He distinctly asked that God should "endow officials with the wisdom and courage to make the right decisions". This request was well worded as too many of us are not content to ask God to help us make the RIGHT DECISIONS; but before praying we make the decisions for ourselves and ask God to see that they are carried out! It, however, is always sound to pray for wisdom and courage. If we would have such a prayer constantly on our mind in a spirit of thankfulness for such blessings as we have—without asking for definite things—we all might be much better off.

What Prayers Are Answered

Although President Truman's reply did not satisfy Mr. Hebert, yet the President's retort was very sound. It looks as if he were a better Bible student than Mr. Hebert as his reply was based on the Bible promise that "The prayers of the righteous availeth much". This means that in order to have our prayers answered, we must live a life that Jesus would approve; with kindness, unselfishness, and integrity. Jesus commanded that before we go to the altar to make our sacrifices and ask for blessings, we should first go to those whom we have wronged by act or word and secure their forgiveness, making restitution if possible. President Truman wisely hinted that this applies to most political leaders and to a large group of voters. We cannot expect an answer to our prayers while playing politics or talking unjustly about officials. Further—

3 Missing Boys Found In Cellar After N. Y. Jaunt

Sought by anxious parents since Friday night, three Arlington Heights teen age boys were found hiding in a cellar about 4 o'clock Monday morning after a sightseeing trip to New York City.

A fourth boy who was in the party was still missing early this week and was believed to be in Philadelphia.

The father of one of the boys gave police a description of the quartet Friday night and this was broadcast to police throughout the East over the teletype system. No one spotted the boys, however. About 4 a.m. Monday, the father of one of the youths telephoned police headquarters and reported a strange noise in his cellar. Police went to the house where they found three of the missing youths.

They said they had left the fourth boy, who is reported to have had more than $200 in his possession when he left home, in New York and that he was enroute to Philadelphia at the time.

School Committee

The school department's athletic program received special attention at the meeting of the School Committee Tuesday evening.

Principal Raymond Morill, Assistant Principal Charles Downes and Russell Peterson, athletic director, went over the athletic program with the school committee. The committee's annual report was also prepared.

Three members of the committee announced they would attend the meeting of the State School Committees Association in Quincy tonight. Teachers salaries will be one of the topics.

MTA Street-car, Two Autos Crash; One Driver Hurt

The driver of an automobile was taken to the Symmes Hospital in a police cruiser car late Sunday evening to be treated for injuries received in a collision involving two automobiles and a street-car at Massachusetts ave., and Windsor st.

Treated at the hospital was Theodore Masteralexis of Tanager st.

The accident happened, according to police, when an auto driven by Frank E. Anderson of 8 Williams st., skidded on the car tracks and crashed into the left front of an MTA car operated by Charles Cole of 95 Madison ave., Everett.

Anderson's car and another auto driven by the Arlington Heights resident then collided.

Both autos and the street-car were damaged, and it was necessary to tow Anderson's car away.

Without any advance notice, although a price increase had been rumored for some time, the Arlington Master Barbers Association drastically stepped up its prices on Monday.

The move was all the more surprising since Boston newspapers reported the same day that the Boston barbers had voted to increase their prices for shaves and haircuts beginning Feb. 1.

Customers visiting at least two local shops Monday morning discovered neatly framed price lists announcing that from now on prices of haircuts would be $1.15, shaves 75 cents and children's haircuts 90 cents on weekdays and $1.15 Saturdays. No reduction or (Continued on Page Ten)

Two Resign

Two more town meeting members have resigned because of changes of residence. They are: Frank A. Buchie of 42 Fairmont st., who has moved to Medford; and Willard R. Locke of 46 Mt. Vernon st., who has moved outside of Precinct 10.

Appointed

The selectmen at their meeting this week appointed Ethel C. Kiely of 97 Everett st., and Helen A. Doyle of 72 Everett st., as junior clerk-typists in the Welfare Department. The appointments become permanent as of Jan. 15.

Publisher Warns Against Haste On Manager Plan

Speaking before the Budd Fellowship of the Calvary Methodist Church on Sunday evening, Arthur J. Mansfield, publisher of the Arlington News and a member of the Town's Personnel Board, warned that most careful and thorough study should be given the proposed Town Manager plan for Arlington so that, if such a plan is approved by the citizens, it will not be cause for regret in the future.

"Although I do not pretend to be an expert on the subject of Town Manager government, I have given it considerable study," the speaker said at the outset. He added there is a definite awareness that this matter should be given careful study since a special committee was appointed to draw up a Town Manager Act and present it to the town meeting.

"In my opinion," Mr. Mansfield continued, "government should be concerned not only in saving money but in building good citizens. It is far more important to consider what a particular plan of government can accomplish in building character through its established departments, such as school, police, health, etc."

"In the first place, it is unfortunate that the recent hearing in the proposed Town Manager Plan drew such a small audience. This is a matter which should vitally concern everyone. Therefore, I question if there would not be a further lessening of interest on

Two Ask Town Funds For Christmas Lights

The board of directors of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday night at the office of John A. Easton, executive secretary, voted to insert two articles in the warrant for the annual town meeting seeking town funds for additional Christmas lighting in the business sections next December.

It was voted to hold a general dinner meeting of the Chamber at the Boys' Club on Feb. 6.

Recreation Directors Hear Conference Report

Daniel McFadden, Arlington parks and recreation director, presided at a meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Recreation Association held at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, last week.

Everett W. Henderson, Franklin W. Hurd and Edward D. Buckley, Arlington park commissioners, attended the meeting at which a report on the Mid-Century White House conference on youth was given by Stephen Mahoney, superintendent of recreation in Cambridge. Franklin P. Hawkes, former principal of Junior High West and now director of Fair Educational Practices for the State, also spoke on "Raising Your Sights in Recreation."

Thief Breaks Into Park Dept. Office

Arlington police inspectors who stuck to the job and untangled one problem after the other over the week-end, returned to their rightful owners three expensive office machines, 11 automobile tires and nine automobile radios that had been stolen in a series of thefts that first came to light Friday morning.

Not only was the stolen property recovered but two Arlington Heights youths are under arrest and are being held for the Grand Jury in conjunction with the theft of the automobile supplies. — (Continued on Page Nine)

Civil Defense Plans Well Under Way Here

The response to the appeal for volunteers for Civil Defense is proceeding at a good pace, Daniel McFadden, Arlington director, reported this week.

Additional volunteers will be sought through established organizations. Mr. McFadden or other experts on various phases of Civil Defense are ready to address any organization that makes the request, Mr. McFadden said.

Training programs in first aid are being mapped. School Superintendent Clifford R. Hall is directing plans for the protection of school children in the event of an air raid alert during school hours. A program to expand the auxiliary police to 350 members and the auxiliary firemen to 90 is also under way.

In 1949 he became executive director of the United Council on World Affairs, and is a teacher at the Cambridge Adult Education Center.

Refreshments will be served by the hospitality committee. Mrs. Joseph Letzelter, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Larden, and Mrs. Erwin Dushuttle.

Mrs. Hollis M. Göt, president, will preside.

The companion attraction on the held-over program is "Pride of Maryland", with Stanley Clements and Peggy Stewart.

Troy Candidate for Housing Authority

Another candidate for the Arlington Housing Authority turned up this week when Kenneth P. Troy of 182 Brattle st., took out nomination papers for the office.

An investigator in the Town's Department of Veterans' Services, Mr. Troy attended Arlington schools and Emerson College. He is a veteran of the U. S. Marines and past commandant of the Lt. Stanley G. Benner unit, Marine Corps League. A lifelong resident of Arlington, he is 36 years old, married, father of three children, and a homeowner. He has taken an active part in Cub Scout sports activities and has given much of his time to worthwhile causes locally through his musical talents.

As a veterans' investigator, Mr. Troy believes he knows the problems confronting the veterans. "I am not interested in the prestige or the honor that so many of our politically-minded citizens are striving for, but I am interested in the aid to the worthy veteran," Mr. Troy stated.

He continued: "You can't sit on a board and thumb through applications for the veteran and come to any sound conclusion in regards to who is the most needy applicant. That is why I have taken such an interest in this matter. To be quite frank I really think that the Veterans' Investigator in each community should be on the housing authority board. I am in favor of more housing for the Veterans of Arlington. I have worked with nine different contractors in the greater Boston area and know the building business from the workman's point of view which is an asset should the Town of Arlington decide on another housing site for the needy veterans of Arlington. This I am definitely in favor of. Should this materialize, the Arlington veteran will be the first to be employed."

Will Interview Local Candidates

The first step towards selecting a slate of candidates for Town office to be endorsed by the Arlington Voters Council will be taken next Sunday and Monday.

The Council's Qualification Committee will meet at the Robbins Library Hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and Monday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 to personally interview any candidate seeking the Council's backing in the March election. All candidates for public office are invited to appear before the committee either Sunday afternoon or Monday evening. Candidates are requested to present a written statement of their qualifications at the time of the interview.

Following the interviews, the Qualifications Committee will report its recommendations to the Council's board of directors who in turn will present the slate at an open meeting of the Council for final approval, according to Wallace Gorton, president.

Memorial Window Dedication Sunday

The dedication of a memorial window at the morning service of worship next Sunday morning at 11 will bring to a climax the 75th anniversary observance of St. John's Episcopal Church on Pleasant st.

Rev. Norman B. Nash, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, will preach the sermon and will be assisted in the service by Rev. Halsey L. Andrews, rector of St. John's.

This window is the gift of Mrs. Arthur Birch in memory of her husband, who was for many years a member of St. John's. It is the first of a series of aisle windows which will eventually adorn the nave.

The subjects planned for the entire series encompass the life of Christ from the Annunciation to the Ascension.

The window has as its theme a symbolic representation of the Baptism. In the center of the composition Christ is standing in the River Jordan; on the river bank at the right is St. John the Baptist who holds the shell and on the left an angel who folds a robe. The Holy Spirit in the form of a dove descends from the clouds. Completing the composition are the Scriptural words "This is my beloved Son."

The symbol above the medal-

lion is the monogram of Christ, I H S, surmounted by a crown and below is one of the many forms of the cross.

The memorial inscription at the base of the window reads "In Memory of Arthur Birch, 1864-1947."

The window was designed, made and installed by Messrs. Reynolds Francis & Rohnstock of Boston.

Other remaining jubilee events include a parish reunion on Friday evening and a Jubilee Ball Saturday night, both in the parish hall.

Mr. Yeames Honored
At the annual parish meeting Monday night, the parish honored Arthur O. Yeames who was retired after 48 years of vestry service.

Mr. Yeames was made senior warden emeritus for life and was presented with a combination radio, phonograph and television set. The presentation was made by J. Milton Washburn, Jr.

New officers elected at the meeting were: J. Milton Washburn, Jr., senior warden; William A. Vincent, junior warden; Chester A. Ginder, clerk; Edward A. Richards, treasurer; Mrs. Alanson Yeaton, assistant treasurer; Arthur O. Alden, vestryman for two years; Floyd Zink, E. M. Harris and Raymond Flynn, vestrymen for three years.

COMMITTEE UNVEILS TOWN MANAGER PLAN AT HEARING

At a preliminary hearing last Wednesday evening on the Town Manager Plan, which a special town committee headed by Atty. James C. Doyle will recommend to the town meeting next March, several constructive suggestions were presented by interested citizens.

The hearing, conducted by Mr. Doyle, was one of the "smoothest" ever seen here, despite the fact that several objections were raised to some of the provisions of the proposed Act (which is described in another story in today's NEWS).

Joseph N. Gaudet objected to barring a local resident from becoming town manager. Committee member William F. Holian explained the object was to obtain a man trained by experience and free of local ties.

Selectman Marcus Sorenson favored the provision calling for a pool of manpower and equipment in the Manager Plan.

Mrs. Harold B. Wood suggested that the manager should have the power to appoint all officials, including town clerk, assessors and Housing Authority. Mr. Doyle explained the proposed plan calls for the election of certain officers, as provided by law; and that his committee recommended the town clerk, town treasurer and assessors be elected by the people, as in the past, because they are not policy-making officers.

Mr. Gaudet and James J. Dolan, president of the Municipal Employees Association, objected to having the town manager — whom they described as "the boss" — appoint the Personnel Board, two of whose members would be town employees. They felt that if this plan were carried out the Personnel Board would be restrained in its decisions.

Atty. Lawrence Corcoran described his proposed plan as "the most feasible that can be found."

The plan provides for central purchasing of town supplies and equipment, except text books and library books. It would abolish the public works board and create a board of five selectmen.

"The plan aims to give the town a manager who in turn would give us an efficient administration," said Mr. Doyle.

Universalist Women

The Association of Universalist Women met at the home of Miss Edith N. Winn, Monday. Mrs. Charles R. Duhig conducted the worship service and Mrs. Robert M. Rice presided. Mrs. Wilfred Hay was the speaker. Tea was served by Mrs. Albert K. Peirce and Mrs. Warren K. Peirce.

GRID CLUB HONORS PLAYER

James J. Golden, vice president of the Gridiron Club of Boston, and a group of Arlington residents attended the club's Nils "Swede" Nelson Award dinner Saturday evening when Bob Williams, Notre Dame quarterback, was presented the award as one of the country's outstanding gridiron athletes. The affair was held at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

TO SPEAK ON ISRAEL

Max Bennett of the Circle Market will speak on "Israel" before a group at the Calvary Methodist Church next Sunday evening at 7. Mr. Bennett visited Israel last Summer.

culty with its City Manager government. In Brookline, a special town committee has rejected the town manager form of government "because qualified men who will not be enticed away by better pay or use their powers in a high-handed manner are hard to find and because elimination of many town functions would unquestionably reduce citizen participation and perhaps interest in town affairs."

Mr. Mansfield next gave the highlights of the Town Manager Plan proposed by a group of citizens last year, but which was tabled by the town meeting members. This plan, he said, was one of the Town Manager forms, including Plan A, B, C, D and E, permitted by the State. He described also the plan of government in Newton where he served as alderman some years ago. This type of government, with its system of checks and balances, seemed to work out satisfactorily, he added.

The Act now under consideration for Arlington is more or less along the lines of Plan E, the speaker said, and it incorporates the provisions of Section 5 which gives the town manager broad powers to consolidate or to abolish town departments.

Mr. Mansfield next described the organization chart of the proposed Town Manager Act for Arlington. The voters would elect the town meeting members, a board of five Selectmen, a Town Clerk, three Assessors, a Town Treasurer, a School Committee of nine and Housing Authority of five. (The latter three offices must be elected by the voters, according to law.)

The Selectmen would appoint the Town Accountant, Board of Appeals, Election Officers and Registrars of Voters, as well as Town Manager.

The Town Manager, subject to the approval of the Selectmen, would appoint a Planning Board of five, a Board of Health of three members, three Park Commissioners, five Library Trustees, three Cemetery Commissioners and three Commissioners of Trust Funds. Also, a Board of Public Welfare comprising three members, a Town Counsel, the Public Works superintendent, Tree Warden and Personnel Board of five members. (At the present all officers in this group are either elected by the voters or appointed by the Selectmen or the Town Moderator.)

Mr. Mansfield pointed out that at last Wednesday night's hearing on the proposed Act, Joseph Gaudet, school official, argued the Plan should provide for more elective officers, that the Personnel Board should not be appointed by the town manager and that the clause barring a resident of the town from serving as manager should be removed. On the other hand, Mr. Mansfield brought out that Mrs. Harold B. Wood contended at the hearing the manager's position would be weakened if he is not allowed to appoint such officers as town clerk, assessors and members of the Housing Authority.

If a Town Manager had the power to appoint the members of the Personnel Board, it would harm the effectiveness of that board because it is a board of arbitration, Mr. Mansfield told the Budd Fellowship.

He concluded: "While I am not for or against a Town Manager Plan, I believe it is fair to state that a properly conceived plan might improve our town government. I believe in centralized purchasing and that general supervision of certain town activities by one man might result in greater efficiency.

"However, let's not take power away from the people. They should determine who will govern them and how they will be governed. We should continue to elect our more important officers."

He agreed with the Brookline committee that it will be extremely difficult to obtain the right type of man as manager because of human limitations and because the office might be subject to manipulation.

He warned that the proposed plan for Arlington might impose too much power in one man. Our system of checks and balances seems safe and sound, and should not be tossed aside too lightly, Mr. Mansfield declared.

He also called attention to the fact that some of the strongest proponents of town manager government have political ambitions and are inclined to be somewhat radical in their thinking.

Arlington Takes GBI Hockey Lead

BY JIM DOHERTY

Arlington High's ice men knocked Cambridge Latin out of first place in the G.B.I. hockey league and took over the top spot when they downed the Cantabs, 1-0, on Capt. Don O'Brien's goal in one of the most thrilling and hardest fought games of the current season at the Arena Saturday as 1000 Arlingtonians went "wild."

In the season's opener Belmont's sextet made the future look pretty dark for the locals when they planted the only mar on the Arlington record.

However, the boys from across the Pond more than made up for it Saturday when they upset Melrose, enabling Arlington to take over sole possession of first place.

While Don O'Brien scored the only goal, his chief duty was to cover Latin's Jack Murphy who is the league's leading scorer. The goose egg for Latin also gives Larry Morgan his first shutout.

Although the first lines of both teams were evenly matched during the first two frames, Arlington's second line had the edge over Latin's seconds. But in the third period Coach Eddie Burns decided to let his first line play constantly for the last six minutes and it paid off.

The high-flying first line peppered Latin's goalie, Don Rigazio, until finally O'Brien, who was close, was able to get his stick on one of Scott Coolidge's rebounds. The Latin net minder didn't have a chance as the Arlington Capt.

slapped the rubber into the lower right corner of the net for the lone tally at 6:25.

Latin's star defenseman, George Boudreau, collapsed from exhaustion two minutes before the final buzzer. Arlington's defensemen, Nobart Timmons and Don Higgins, played the entire game and did splendid jobs.

NOT A CURE-ALL

While adoption of Town Manager government for the Town of Arlington might result in greater efficiency in certain departments, citizens should guard against expecting that Town Manager government will solve all our problems.

The Boston Post, in a recent editorial, made the following observation which is particularly timely insofar as Arlington is concerned:

"A very sound and sensible warning against indiscriminate adoption of the city and town manager plans as a panacea to cure all ills and evils of existing municipal government systems is issued by the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Association in its current publication, Tax Talk.

"The federation points out, truly, that a manager plan does not in itself guarantee more efficient government.

"The federation has long approved and endorsed the general principle of professionalized city and town management and hence the present warning to go slow is more important than if it came from professional politicians and perennial officeholders.

"Of the communities which have adopted the management form, some have later regretted it. At present, management study committees are at work in a score or more places and if the trend continues it is fair to assume that at least some of the committees will recommend professional managers. But the voters will do well to study and debate the question thoroughly before taking final action which might be difficult to rescind."

If a reduction in our real estate tax is what we are aiming at, we might give serious thought to a suggestion made by a high town official. He contends that Arlington can reduce its present tax rate three or four dollars by doing two things, namely: 1. Reduce the number of town meeting members drastically. 2. Have all articles in town warrants voted on by secret ballot.

We made the latter suggestion ourselves years ago on this page but never pressed the matter. We are told there is no law to prevent a secret vote on town meeting articles. If that is the case, those responsible for the conduct of our town meetings can provide an efficient and inexpensive way of voting on various articles by ballot if they will only make up their minds to it.

THE SYMMES HOSPITAL DRIVE

Arlingtonians know of course that sickness is no respecter of person, time or place. That is one reason why we should participate in the Completion Campaign of the Symmes Arlington Hospital Building Fund which is now in progress.

And do you know that one in every eight persons requires hospital care each year? That is another reason for active interest in this important community drive. You or one of your family may be THE one this year. And how comforting to know that right here in our own town a Class A hospital is prepared to take care of these one in eight persons.

The building fund campaign of 1949 gave the trustees sufficient funds to build a magnificent addition to the hospital, thereby affording enough space for up-to-date equipment, enough space for convenient working conditions of the staff, enough space to overcome crowding and to eliminate as far as possible the "waiting list."

All this was done, but the operation of the hospital is not yet as full and complete as the trustees plan to have it. Improved and modernized equipment is needed in the operating and emergency rooms, for laboratory and X-Ray departments, and elsewhere in the buildings. It takes money to supply all these needs. That is why we call upon our people to do their share toward keeping Symmes Hospital in the A Class.

Remember, you may be next. You may require the most modern methods and equipment to combat your case. A successful fund-raising campaign will make these facilities available.

—Stanley W. Bates of 3 Wollaston ave., graduate student at Emerson College, recently returned from the Speech Conference held at New York City.

—Maurice L. Hatch of 20 Draper ave., Arlington Gas Light Company official, has returned home from the hospital.

more, those who have been too lazy or indifferent to vote, have a poor case when praying for better government. I, therefore, am 100 percent for President Truman in his reply to this and similar requests.

Although the above discussion has ended, it has brought up a most interesting fact which the President and all others in authority must some day recognize. I have in mind how decisions of Presidents, Senators, Congressmen, and other federal, state, and city officials are affected by other factors. We all know that our own decisions are definitely affected by our health and home relations, especially what we did the night before! Health and habit have been responsible for the enactment of much bad legislation, the rendering of unjust court decisions, resulting even in sending innocent men to prison or perhaps to the gallows. But let me this week discuss other causes in which Washington is getting interested. I even found the Weather Bureau looking up conditions on the day the President, through the United Nations, directed our troops to land in Korea. Based on the conditions of that day, I believe his decision was sound, even though we may later pull out all our troops. It was worth all that it has cost to "smoke out" the Russians and awaken our own people. It would be a wonderful way to start off the New Year and the 82nd Congress.

Temperature and Humidity

Looking back over my life it is very evident that the two simple words "Yes" and "No" are of tremendous importance. My successes were due to saying "Yes" when I should say "Yes", or "No" when I should say "No"; while my failures have been due to saying "Yes" when I should have said "No". Of course, I also needed the courage to stick to the right decision! But what determined these decisions of mine, in addition to the power of prayer, is whether I was leading a life to be classified as "righteous".

The weather at the time of these decisions has definitely influenced me. A hot and humid day will contribute to the wrong decision (even in an air-conditioned room); while a clear, dry day with a west wind will help me make a wise decision. But there must not be a strong enough wind to distract me. The reading of the barometer is also a factor, as we should make decisions only on the rising barometer. We should avoid making decisions when tired, ill or hurried. It is too bad that the officials and Congressmen here in Washington, upon whose decisions the nation's future depends, must live in such a hurly-burly environment. Irrespective of the possibility of bombing, these men should be 30 or more miles from Washington with spacious ground and gardens where they will be assured of quietness and, if needed, solitude also.

What About Gravity?

Any well-known physicist will tell you that your state of mind is related to the circulation of your blood, which is affected by the pull of gravity. This is one reason for the importance of correct posture whether walking, sitting, or lying down. Swollen ankles, throbbing heads, and many other physical handicaps are lessened by changing our position so as to correct the gravity pull. This gravity pull applies to overweight, diet, lack of rest, and other factors. I am not superstitious, but the diary which I have kept for many years demonstrates that most of my good ideas came during the "no-moon" periods; furthermore, most of my foolish ideas came to me during the "full-moon" periods.

I wish to avoid any dogmatic statements or to ask for any impractical things; but I do wish that the President would ask some qualified person, already on the payroll, to make a thorough study of the above and learn whether or not I am justified in these conclusions. But I am not content to let only one man think on these things; but would like to get everyone in authority to consider them.

A concrete suggestion would be to have these daily statistics on temperature, humidity, wind, barometer, and moon-phase printed on the front page of the Congressional Record EACH DAY. This would be no additional expense and could not be criticized by anyone.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Abuse of sick leaves and "Monday morning absenteeism" among employees on the state payroll reached the point this week where even the heads of the employees' organizations couldn't take it. John R. Enos, president of the Massachusetts State Employees' Association, and W. V. Ward, president of the Massachusetts Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, A.F. of L. demanded a crackdown. Just for a sample, 17 of the 33 employees of the State superintendent of buildings office were absent from work Monday, a newspaper reported. By Tuesday, conditions were improving; ONLY 16 of the 33 were absent.

"COMMON MAN RISING TO ROLE OF TAX HERO" reads a newspaper headline. The story goes on to explain that "the little guy" is likely to bear the brunt of the heavy tax load being mapped by the Federal government. So, if you see your next door neighbor walking up the street carrying a violin case, don't jump to the conclusion that he's suddenly taking up violin lessons. He's carrying "the thing" around just to look at ease. His hair will be growing longer as he stretches out the weeks between high-priced haircuts and he'll be using the case to store cigarette butts. (The gossip is that cigarette prices are due for a drastic jump.) The money he saves will go for taxes in his new role of "TAX HERO". Eventually, he'll be going around in a barrel. So what? He'll be hailed as the new "TAX HERO".

Incidentally, TAX HERO thought the sounding of three fire whistles Monday morning was either to herald the opening of Thrift Week or to announce the arrival of $1.15 haircuts, on which the government is likely to slap a luxury tax. (Why not? We already pay it on necessary toilet articles). Actually, the whistles happened to be the "no school" signal.

Massachusetts' share of President Truman's proposed $71.6 billion budget as submitted to Congress on Monday amounts to $2,434,000,000, the Taxpayers Federation revealed this week.

"This staggering tax load is about 10 times the present State budget," Norman MacDonald, Federation executive director said. "It is almost five times the cost of operating the 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth for one year."

"For the average breadwinner, of average income, with an average size family of four, his share of the federal budget request for one year will be $2,075.68, which amounts to $518.92 for every man, woman and child," MacDonald announced. "These figures should at last awaken the people of the Commonwealth and of the country to the necessity of economy in federal, state and local spending. This proposed budget of $71.6 billion is about nine times the amount spent by a federal government in 1940 when we were preparing for war. It is equal to about 33 per cent of the total national income in 1949."

Congratulations and best wishes to Robert L. Reid, Inspector of wires, who has just reached his 25th year of service to the Town. Mr. Reid was assistant wire inspector under William Mason for 15 years and then succeeded Mr. Mason as inspector.

Boston coverage area continued at a brisk pace during the month of December. As yet distribution in this area approached the 650,000 mark, according to figures released today by WNAC-TV and WBZ-TV. The current survey shows 642,302 sets installed in homes and public places as of January 1, 1951. The increase over the previous month amounts to 32,914 sets.

Mrs. Marie Dever, First Lady of the Commonwealth, is chairman of a committee formed to raise funds for a great central fountain at the new United Nations headquarters in New York. Every student in the schools of the State is to be asked to contribute a penny or more for the Massachusetts quota. Nationally, the committee, known as the Governors' wives Committee for Central Fountain at United Nations Headquarters, is headed by Mrs. Arthur B. Langlie, wife of the Governor of Washington.

The fountain will be in the form of a huge circular basin in front of the headquarters building. The aqua glass facade of the building will reflect the moving waters of the fountain and greet visitors as they approach. The cost of the fountain will be $75,000 and each state and territory has been assigned a quota, none over $2,000.

Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, yesterday appealed to bird-lovers to help their feathered friends survive the extreme cold weather by putting out food for them. During the bitter cold days, particularly when the ground is covered with snow and ice, it is highly desirable that grain, bread crumbs, corn meal, etc., be spread where birds can reach them, thus eliminating the possibility of suffering which might result through lack of their natural diet.

Spellers Compete At Jr. High East

Excitement was in the air at the Junior High East yesterday as the winners of the ninth grade home room spelling bees, sponsored by the Boston Herald, prepared to contend for the title of school champion.

At an assembly for the entire school, at which Norman Peterson of the ninth grade presided, bees were conducted by Joseph H. Gaudet, assistant principal, assisted by three faculty judges, Miss Ruth Hunt, Miss Margaret Bubar and Robert Stevenson.

First the 10 runners up in the home room contests engaged in a spelling bee to determine a winner. Then came the five home room winners to determine which of them would represent the school at the Boston Herald semi-final spelling bees to be conducted in February.

Those participating in the first contest were John Brennan, Albert Carlisle, Ida Gochlan, Sandra Lawrence, Florence Iovanna, Cynthia Lawson, Norman Peterson, Jacqueline Quinn, Jean Spence and Herald Sulahian. The winner of this contest was Sandra Hale.

In the bee to determine the school winner the contestants were Thomas Atkinson, Gerald Harrison, Alice Lowell, Nancy Ogden and Mary Toscano. The champion of the school was Mary Toscano. Runner up was Alice Lowell.

Card Party to Benefit Arlington Boys' Club

Wednesday night, Jan. 24, the Dads of the Arlington Boys' Club will hold their second annual bridge and whist party at the Robbins Town Hall.

Party Chairman Frank Higgins reported at the committee meeting last night that the Dads have a wonderful array of gifts which will go as door prizes. In addition, each table will have a beautiful prize for the high scorer.

A handsome portable radio will be awarded. Winlaw Blaney is serving as committeeman in charge of this phase of the party. The Dads have collected many novelty items for distribution during the party. Bob Munstedt will entertain with the accordion and the "Street Slinger." Refreshments will be served by boy members of the "Service Club."

Members of the Dads card party committee are:

New Chimes Added at Berglund Funeral Home

Installation of a set of 25 tone Amphion Cathedral Chimes has been completed during the past week at the Berglund Funeral Home, for use in combination with the Hammond organ.

The chimes consist of solid bars 1½" in diameter and operate through electrical contact from a manual organ and a five point volume control, producing an exquisite harmonious effect in combination with the organ music. The music is available at all services conducted at the Home.

The Berglund Funeral Home was established in Cambridge 26 years ago and has been located at the present location, 292 Massachusetts ave., for the past 25 years. It is operated by its owner, Christian Berglund, with the assistance of his two sons, Clifford E. and Raymond E., all licensed embalmers and funeral directors.

Commuters' Column

White Steam in the Morning Sun

As the temperature begins to hover around the zero mark, I notice commuters beginning to divide themselves into two groups. They're the fresh air fiends—the boys who stand out on the platform in the sun, shivering. The other group stay in the warmth of the station.

Last week I joined the fresh air boys—their coat collars turned up, their newspapers stuffed in pockets waiting to be read later on board the train. Opposite were two freight cars on a siding behind the local feed and grain store. About a dozen pigeons perched, puffed up and cold, on the ridge pole. The group didn't seem very talkative. It was as though their words and breath were frozen. As I approached, it seemed they had been speculating in a desultory way on the two freight cars, one marked Santa Fe, the other D. & H.

"The railroads use each other's cars in a way that is like a pool," I heard one guy say. "Sometimes a car is away from its home base six months or more."

"That's right," another said, "but they're not just idle. Sometimes they go back empty, but mostly they are filled with New England products going West, South or North."

"Must be a pretty complicated piece of bookkeeping," chipped in a third.

We heard the long whistle of the 9:08 about a mile down the track. The engine turned the bend. White steam caught the morning sun, billowing up and away against the clean, blue sky. The group watched silently before such beauty.

Now I have one reason why the fresh air crowd shared the creature comforts of the radiator.

New 1951 Buick Here Saturday

The beautiful new 1951 Buick will go on display for the first time Saturday. In Arlington, the new car will be shown at the Arlington Buick Company, Inc., 835 Massachusetts ave.

The new line contains three series of cars, ranging from the low-priced Special up through the Super to the luxury models in the Roadmaster.

"Important advances in styling features coupled with major chassis and body improvements combine to make the 1951 Buick the greatest value in our history," Ivan L. Willes, Buick general manager, said.

There are eight models in the Special Series, six in the Super and four in the Roadmaster.

To Demonstrate Catholic Mass

A demonstration and explanation of the ceremonies and procedure of the Catholic Mass will be presented at Robbins Town Hall Thursday evening, Feb. 1, under the auspices of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of St. Agnes Parish.

An altar will be set up and all the ceremonies of the Mass demonstrated and the prayers recited just as in an actual service, except that the prayers will be said in English and suitable explanation will be interspersed.

Two priests of the Boston Archdiocese, Rev. Frederick McManus, secretary of the Archdiocesan Tribunal, and Rev. Albert Low, assistant supervisor of diocesan schools, will conduct the demonstration. As the demonstration has proved highly interesting elsewhere, both to Catholic and non-Catholic alike, a cordial invitation is extended to non-Catholics who may be interested and members of St. Agnes parish have been urged personally to convey this invitation to non-Catholic friends.

Admission, which is free of charge, will be by ticket only. Tickets will be made available to parishioners at St. Agnes' Sunday. Some will be saved at St. Agnes' rectory for non-Catholics who may apply.

More Candidates Needed To Fill Town Meeting Member Vacancies

Up to yesterday afternoon, figures available at the office of Town Clerk James J. Golden showed that there is a definite shortage of candidates for town meeting members if every vacancy that now exists is to be filled at the March election.

Figures show there are 96 vacancies in the town's 14 precincts and only 65 candidates so far for these vacant seats. Additional candidates are needed in Precincts

Mothers Planning March on 'Polio'

John Larmour, acting chairman of the Arlington March of Dimes Campaign, this week announced plans for a mass march on Polio by the Mothers of Arlington.

This mothers' march will be conducted by the Women's Division of the March of Dimes under the direction of School Committee woman Mary K. Boyd.

All Arlington will be aware of the drive with most of the town's private and public facilities used to arouse interest in the campaign. Every Arlington home that has its front porch lighted on the evening of Jan. 31 will be visited by mothers headed by Mrs. Marion McKeever of Harlow st. and Mrs. Margaret Dormitzer of Cliff st.

In the meantime, you can help the drive by returning your donation envelope which you received last week. Or better, volunteer to help collect funds on the 31st.

Help Wanted, Call Now

Pick up your phone and call Mrs. McKeever at AR 5-8360 or Mrs. Dormitzer at AR 5-2856-W. Your help is needed for one hour, between 6 and 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 31. Two hundred mothers have volunteered and need additional help to make up the five hundred collectors required for the complete success of this fight.

"Light Up Your Porch" The light on your porch on Wednesday night, Jan. 31 will invite one of Arlington's polio-fighting mothers to call and receive your contribution for the March of Dimes.

PHILHARMONIC SCHOLARSHIP MUSICAL SET FOR SUNDAY

Leo Litwin, a group of distinguished soloists and the Arlington Philharmonic Society, will present a musicale next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Junior High East.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow to give music enthusiasts an opportunity to become acquainted with the musicians.

Proceeds of the concert will benefit the Society's scholarship fund by which several talented young musicians each year are given added training. Mr. Litwin and his associates are donating their services for this occasion.

The program will open with Mendelssohn's Trio in D Minor. Mrs. Phyllis Spence, concert mistress of the Philharmonic will be the violinist. Charlotte Davies and Richard Hough will play the cello and piano, respectively.

Mr. Litwin's guest mezzo soprano, Pearl Layton, accompanied by Richard Hough at the piano, will sing two beautiful German selections, as well as Mignon's plaintive song, "Connais Tu Le Paie?", by Thomas and MacArthur's "Night."

Leo Litwin will play selections for the piano chosen to stimulate and delight the audience. These will include two compositions by Debussy that are not too often heard, but yet have been proved by time. He will follow this with Chopin's "Ballade in G Minor" and "Fantasy on Themes from Die Fledermus" by Strauss.

Donald Marsh, violinist, will join the trio in the final selections.

—Dr. Philip W. Card of 152 Crosby st., returned Saturday from a week's course of study at the University of Michigan. He was one of 16 dentists in the country selected for the new course in air-abrasive technique given by Dr. William R. Mann. Dr. Card's son, Robert, spent a week-end at the University. During that time, Mrs. Card was the guest of Mrs. O. E. Underhill, dean of women at Teachers' College in New Britain, Conn.

Thefts

arrest is expected in the theft of the office machinery.

Things started to happen about 6 o'clock Friday morning when Patrolman Wilson Schaber discovered that Bank's service station at Arlington Heights had been broken into. He trailed footprints from the gasoline station to a nearby brook where he found a number of gasoline certificates that had been stolen from the station.

He followed the tracks on the snow. These led through the yard of the Schwab factory and to the Park Department building on Ryder which is enclosed by a high chain link fence. The gate at the yard was locked, but an intruder had managed to climb the barrier and had broken into the Town department building. Patrolman Schaber investigated further and found that the office of Superintendent Daniel McFadden had been broken into. Entrance was gained by removing a pane of glass in a door in the shop at the rear of the building. (The office is at the front of the building near the main gate.) An expensive typewriter and adding machine had been removed from the office. A drawer in Mr. McFadden's desk had been jimmied.

Officer Schaber followed the tracks in the snow still further and finally came upon the typewriter and adding machine, as well as a cash register taken from the service station, in a field between Summer St. and the railroad tracks. The thief either dropped the heavy machines in a hurry and fled, or deliberately left them there with the hope of returning to pick them up with an auto.

Man Under Suspicion
 Similar thefts of office machinery have taken place in a nearby town and police are trying to link up these with the two Arlington breaks. They have a man under suspicion, according to Chief Archie F. Bullock.

"Whoever broke into the Park Department office must have been a giant," commented Superintendent McFadden. He pointed out that because the chain link gate leading to the park building was locked, the thief had to remove the machines from the building and then toss them over the 10-foot fence before he could carry them off some several hundred yards away. Both machines were badly damaged when tossed over the enclosure it was found when they were returned to the office by police.

Pair Nabbed In Woburn
 The two Arlington Heights youths were arrested Saturday morning by Woburn police. The series of events in this case started about 4 a.m. when Woburn police picked up an Arlington cab that was supposed to be in the garage by 2 a.m.

They contacted the Arlington police and as a result the driver was arrested. Later on, an alarm was sent out for the arrest of another Arlington youth who had stolen a second car in Woburn. Arlington police went to his home but found he had slipped away just a few minutes before. The young man made the mistake of returning to Woburn where he was arrested a short time later.

Both young men were questioned by police. It developed that the pair had stolen 11 automobile tires and nine auto radios, according to Chief Bullock. Furthermore, police learned that the tires and radios had been sold to unsuspecting buyers. In some cases the tires or radios were bought at such low prices that it might have aroused suspicion on the part of the purchasers. By stretching a point, the police could prosecute some of these purchasers for accepting stolen goods, according to the police chief. However, it appears that all they stand to lose is the money they paid for their "bar-

Let the People Decide Form of Government,
Says Robert Mahoney

"Let the people decide what form of government they wish to be represented by," said candidate for Selectman Robert E. Mahoney of 260 Broadway, yesterday.

"Let's not have a small group inflict our Town with a burden which could leave its people open to a phony tax rate and high assessments," continued Mahoney who received 5,317 votes as a successful candidate for Planning Board for the one year term in 1949.

Mahoney, a Town Meeting member from Precinct 2, has been very active in Arlington community drives. He has a successful real estate and insurance business in Arlington and feels he is qualified by experience in civic affairs to give Arlington a capable economical government.

"I have the time and the knowledge to continue good government in Arlington," said Mahoney whose family has made their home here for over 75 years.

This home is equipped to care for the chronic and aged with a capable staff of registered Nurses, twenty-four hours in attendance, under the direct supervision of Mrs. Enid M. MacDonald.

Mrs. MacDonald operated her home for a number of years at 133 Broadway, Arlington before moving to the present address about a year ago.

Women Voters to Hear Talk by Sir Benegal Rau

State fiscal policies were discussed by members of the League of Women Voters of Arlington last Thursday.

Mrs. Roy Freed, chairman of the Economic Policy Committee, led the discussions. The morning meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hugo deFritsch and the evening meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Thompson.

"Crucial Foreign Policy Decisions Facing the United States" will be discussed at the 29th School of International Relations to be conducted by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts with the cooperation of Radcliffe College next Wednesday and Thursday at Cambridge.

Sir Benegal Rau, chief delegate from India to the United Nations, will speak on "U. S. Far Eastern Policy Through the Eyes of Asia" at Rindge Technical High School next Wednesday evening at 8. This meeting will be open to the public by ticket.

The morning and afternoon sessions will be held at Agassiz House, Radcliffe College. Mrs. Richard Bolt, president of the Arlington League, will be at the head table at the luncheon at Hotel Continental next Wednesday. Mrs. Oliver Allen, chairman of the International Relations Committee of the Arlington League, will be at the head table at the luncheon on Thursday. Members of the Arlington League will serve as ushers at the Thursday morning meeting.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS

St. Agnes Court C.D.A. will meet Monday evening at Legion Hall. This will be the annual visit from State Regent, Miss Catherine Dwyer. Miss Elizabeth Doherty is chairman.

Tuesday there will be an afternoon bridge and whist at Legion Hall. Mrs. Alice Keohane and Mary Kelly are co-chairman.

Haircuts

All of Arlington's 21 barber shops have fallen in line, according to a prominent member of the association. The decision was taken last Thursday night at a meeting at which 17 of the shops were represented. Fifteen of the owners are reported to have expressed the conviction that the price boosts are justified in view of the increased cost of living.

It was voted to put the increase in effect immediately rather than wait until Feb. 1 because shops in some of the surrounding communities have already gone up to $1.15 for haircuts, the spokesman said.

He added that the barbers were forced to raise their prices because of the higher cost of living and the increased cost of supplies.

"The employees, as well as the owners of barber shops, will definitely share the benefits of the increased prices," the spokesman said.

"Why all the fuss over higher priced haircuts? Everything else is going up in price but little is said about it," he added. "So far, our customers have accepted it as part of the inflation trend which is hitting everyone. Some are complaining, but they'll forget it by the time the baseball season rolls around."

Meanwhile, the average man did not take it so graciously. It was one of the main topics of the week wherever men met, and there was talk, some of it jokingly, of how they were going to beat the increase. Some were resigned to sporting long hair as "the new look" for men. Others were talking of buying clippers, shears (and bowls) and going to work on each other. Few offered to be the first victims. Any stranger with a formula on "How to Become a Barber in Ten Easy Lessons" could have done a land-office business. However, those who remember what happened to the little gadgets for rolling their own cigarettes that flooded the market when cigarette prices started to climb were a bit skeptical. It appeared to be a question of who will cry "Uncle!" first and give in.

At any rate, at least one barber off the beaten path was noted to be spending much of his time this week watching the cars pass by. A mind reader would undoubtedly find that his thought (and hope) was "They'll be back."

Junior Woman's Club

The Arlington Juniors had Professor Clifton Emery of Tufts College as speaker for their first meeting in 1951.

Professor Emery presented a fascinating lecture on psychology as applied to our daily lives. He explained how personality traits can oftentimes be traced to events occurring in childhood. He gave several illustrations pointing out how he had helped people with personality difficulties.

Constance Colby, co-chairman of the social committee, led a discussion on the social event for January. After many suggestions, it was decided to hold a bowling party with Jan. 24 as the tentative date.

The "March of Dimes" has once again called on the club to provide collectors at the Capital Theater.

Phinney to Head Heart Fund Drive

Theodore E. Phinney of 890 Massachusetts ave. will serve as general chairman of the Arlington 1951 Heart Fund, according to Edgar A. Perry, state chairman. Mr. Phinney will be in charge of the campaign which will take place Feb. 1 through 28 to raise funds to carry on a year-round program of heart research, education and community services.

In announcing this appointment, Mr. Perry pointed out that an estimated 9,000,000 Americans have heart disease, of whom half a million are elementary and high school children, and that in Massachusetts alone approximately 23,000 people died of heart disease during 1949.

He emphasized, however, that this year's slogan — NEW HOPE FOR HEARTS — is based on the hopeful word that great progress is being made toward the control, perhaps even the eventual conquest, of many forms of heart disease.

Club Hears Talk on Communistic China

The Arlington Heights Study Club met at the home of Mrs. E. B. Dallin, 84 Oakland ave., Tuesday evening of last week. Mrs. Hallam T. Ring presided. Hostesses were Mrs. Marcus Sorenson and Mrs. Adler Hanson.

The speaker, Mrs. Frederick Brandauer, recently returned from China, held her audience spellbound with her display of confident faith, courage and resourcefulness as she related her experiences in Communist China.

She told the newspapers of China are filled with columns of anti-American sentiment, and described the subtle and insidious methods of Communist indoctrination. They first create fear and distrust by spreading rumors of the horrors attendant upon communist invasion, and then actually enter the towns and cities singing and dancing in the streets. Surprised and relieved by this unexpected approach, the people easily become fertile soil for Communist propaganda. Their confidence won, the Communists then proceed to seep very slowly into every phase of life. There are no drastic statements at first; the people are led on gradually. They are compelled to listen to propaganda until all old ideas are discarded and the peoples' minds are molded to their Communist ideology.

Mrs. Brandauer expressed the belief that Americans do not fully understand the Orient and that we cannot defeat Communism with bombs, but rather, that we must examine ourselves, recognize our weaknesses and strengthen our spiritual resources if we are to overcome the menace of Communism.
